Rock County Sheriff's Office will participate in the fourth annual National Coffee with a Cop Day on Wednesday, October 2, 2019. Local law enforcement officers will converse with community members over coffee at two area restaurants. Coffee with a Cop is a community engagement program that provides opportunities for community members to talk with law enforcement officers in a casual setting and promotes open communication.

The Sheriff's Office is partnering with Edgerton Police Department to host a Coffee with a Cop event at Cafe on Main, located at 1102 N Main St. in Edgerton. Edgerton Police Chief Robert Kowalski and Rock County Sheriff's Office Commander Craig Strouse will be available to speak with community members from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. on October 2, 2019.

The Sheriff's Office will hold another Coffee with a Cop event at the Wedge Inn East, located at 3443 E Milwaukee St. in Janesville. Deputy Tony Barr and Deputy Emily Miller will be available to chat with community members from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. on October 2, 2019.

The mission of Coffee with a Cop is to break down the barriers between cops and the citizens they serve by giving community members time to ask questions, voice concerns, and get to know local cops. We encourage the community to come out to either location.
